

Mr. K. J. Paulose dies at age 65

Mr. K. J. Paulose was born on December 11, 1949 in Keezhillam, Kerala, and moved to Odakkali, Kothamangalam at age 7. He left Kerala after high school to pursue his studies in Radiography at Christian Medical College, Ludhiana. There he met his wife Jancy who he married on January 24, 1977. Their lives took them across the globe to Zambia from 1978-1984, back to Kerala, and eventually to the US on October 15, 1984. Paulose and Jancy have three children: Anne, Rami, and Jaby. Over time, their family expanded to include the spouses of their children: George, Justin, and Gipsa, respectively.

Paulose spent many years working at Blythedale Children's Hospital as Director of Radiology. He took great joy in spending time with his family, especially his two grandchildren Layla and Alyssa. He was an active member of St. Mary's Syrian Orthodox Church in West Nyack, NY. He served the Malankara Archdiocese as its first Archdiocesan Treasurer. He had a remarkable zest for life and a positive attitude despite the obstacles placed in his way. He was diagnosed with multiple myeloma in September 2011 and underwent two stem cell transplants at Mount Sinai Medical Center before he was called to rest in the arms of the Lord on June 2, 2015.

Along with his immediate family, he is survived by his mother Annamma Jacob and his brother KJ Varghese. His was a life well lived and well loved, and he will be greatly missed. He may be gone from this world but he will be forever in our hearts.

On Behalf of the Archbishop and all the faithful of the Malankara Archdiocese, condolences to the bereaving family.
